

L.A. COMEDIAN BRINGS HIT ADELAIDE FRINGE SHOW TO EDINBURGH

Justin Matson has been kicked off three rollercoasters for being too fat, and he's finally ready to talk about it!

Adorably awkward with a twist of gay, Matson is a critically-acclaimed Los Angeles based comedian and he's delivering a hilarious stand-up hour about his lifelong struggle with body image. Recently debuted to sold-out crowds at the Adelaide Fringe in Australia, Fatter Than You Think is real, raw, and gayer than a small side-salad.

"Matson has a beautiful self-deprecating sense of humour about it all that seems to make it all light, bright and very funny" Glam Adelaide

Originally from San Diego, Matson is a graduate of the Upright Citizen Brigade's sketch and improv program, he currently writes and performs with the house sketch team at The Pack Theatre in Los Angeles as featured on FUSION TV (The Morning Show). He recently debuted his new stand-up special "Justin Matson: Fatter Than You Think" at the Adelaide Fringe to sell-out crowds in and is thrilled to be presenting the same show at the largest arts event in the world, the Edinburgh Festival Fringe.

Matson is a co-creator of the daily Instagram series @EasierMovies, worked as a sketch writer for WeMash, and wrote and starred in a choose-your-adventure interactive comedy horror spoof, Scary Death House, which was a finalist in the LA Scripted Comedy Festival.
